School Building Program Targeted For Completion Sometime In 1983

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Now that town meeting has approved the $11 million school building program, Andover can look forward to having a new junior high school and high school auditorium, and a renovated West junior high by the end of 1983.

The town will ask for construction bids by late November or early December of this year, according to Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark, and construction will begin in January or February of 1981.

The three-part project will take from 18 months to three years to complete, bringing the target date to sometime during 1983.

A different construction firm may be used for each school, Clark said Friday, adding that the town expects "good, tight bidding" and will choose a firm or firms "of quality and integrity."

The $11.5 million cost of the program was cut by $507,000 left over from a 1978 article for planning of the building program.

A 15-year bond to fund the three-part project, at a probable 9½ percent interest rate, will have its greatest impact on the tax rate during 1981-82, when it will add an estimated $4.70, Clark told town meeting. That figure will decline in subsequent years, he said.

The more than 900 voters who came to town meeting Wednesday night were "already knowledgeable and had formed an opinion" on the school bonding question, Clark said Friday.

The article was voted through in little more than two hours, with much less questioning and discussion from voters than the school building committee had anticipated.

At the recommendation of the Finance Committee, the article was amended so that each of the project's three parts could be voted on separately. "It is not necessary to consider this as an all-or-nothing proposition," explained FinCom Chairman Donn Byrne.

The Finance Committee further amended the article to stipulate that the interest rate on the bond is not to exceed 9½ percent per annum; and that the state must fund 50 percent of the construction costs and 20 percent of the interest, as the state's School Building Assistance Bureau (SBAB) has already indicated it will.

Byrne called the school building article "a good proposal," and said the FinCom recommended approval of the article.

The selectmen also gave full support to the article. "We believe the building committee has done a very thorough job on all aspects of this project," said Chairman James Abramson, "and that now is the time to act on their proposal."

The school building committee used slides of architect's plans for the three schools to explain its building program and the reasons behind it.

The first part of the article called for converting the Doherty school into a junior high school to replace East junior high, using the Memorial auditorium wing as part of the new junior high, at a cost of $5,580,000.

The conversion project was approved by a standing vote of 796 to 128. Voters applauded and some cheered when Everett Collins, high school music department; Bill Eaton, high school representative to the building committee and Pat Canavan, chairman Student Advisory Committee.

To Discuss Gypsy Moth Problems

Selectmen and Public Works Director Robert E. McQuade will discuss the gypsy moth problem and plans to combat the anticipated infestation this year, at the Monday meeting of the board in the library at 7:30 p.m.

Town meeting appropriated additional funds to the forestry department this year to work in the gypsy moth problem. There has been some concern as to how the department will handle the matter and this will be the subject of Monday night's discussion.

Merrill Steps Down From FinCom

Finance Committee member Robert Merrill has asked to be relieved of his duties due to the pressure of business. Merrill, completing a three-year term on the FinCom, informed Moderator James D. Doherty of his desire to be relieved and it was accepted with appreciation expressed by Doherty at the final session of town meeting last week.

Doherty announced the reappointment to the FinCom of Donn B. Byrne, currently serving as chairman and Frederick P. Fitzgerald, secretary.

Taxes Due By May 1

Town of Andover real estate taxes are due May 1. Taxes unpaid after that date are subject to interest at 14 per cent from April 1. Anyone who has not as yet received a tax bill should contact the tax collector's office.

The office will be open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Monday night, April 28 from 6 to 8 o'clock.

Rental Units Available Under Chapter 707

An additional ten units have been made available for low income individuals and families under provisions of Chapter 707 Rental Assistance program.

The Andover Housing Authority had ten units authorized previously and within the past month an additional ten were authorized, according to an announcement by Byron J. Matthew of the office of communities and development.

The Chapter 707 program allows local housing authorities to place individuals and families in privately owned, moderately-priced units and pay the difference between the rent charged by the landlord and the rent which the tenant would be required to pay if living in public housing. The tenant provides the first 25 per cent of income.

Information is available through the Andover Housing Authority.

To Replace Flags On Graves

The Patriotic Holiday committee, with the assistance of the local Veterans Organizations, will replace the American flags on the graves of all Veterans, who are interred in Andover Cemeteries prior to Memorial Day.

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 2128 and the American Legion, Post 8 will meet in the Veterans Headquarters, 9 Essex Street, Sunday, May 4 at 1 p.m. to carry out this activity.

Rain date for placing flags will be Sunday, May 18, at 1 p.m.

The assistance of members of both posts, is needed as there are more than 1,100 graves to honor with a new flag.

Spring Hike Sunday

On Sunday, April 27, the Andover Committee of the Appalachian Mountain Club is sponsoring a woodland hike through parts of Harold Parker Forest. The starting time is 1:30 p.m. and the meeting place is the parking place opposite the State Police Barracks on Route 125 at the intersection with Gould Road.

This hike is through forested areas of the state recreational land that features pine trees and various hardwoods. The trail will lead around small ponds often filled with wild duck and geese. Wild flowers, birds, and the other harbingers of spring should be readily apparent. The trip will last approximately two hours. Those wishing more time in the out of doors can continue to the Rocky Hill Reservation (AVIS) and spend another hour on this land.

The leader for this springtime hike is Dr. Fred Wallace.

The community is invited and urged to attend

Weekend Train Begins Sunday

By Randolph Lehman-Becker
Andover's Representative To The Merrimack Valley
Regional Transit Authority

Beginning Sunday, April 27, the train service of the Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority will be expanded to include weekend service. Sunday and Holiday service will feature trains to Boston, leaving Andover Center station at 12:01 p.m. and 6:01 p.m., with trains from Boston for Andover leaving North Station at 6:20 p.m. and 11:59 p.m.

Saturday service, which begins on May 3rd, will see trains leaving Andover Center station at 10:01 a.m., 12:01 p.m. and 6:01 p.m., with the return trips from North Station at 4:20 p.m., 6:20 p.m., and 11:59 p.m. All trains will also stop at Ballardvale four minutes before or after this time depending on the direction of the train service.

At the same time, Shawsheen station will be closed; repair and maintenance costs there are excessive in relation to the small number of daily riders (less than five average) forced the cancellation of service to that station. Now, however, all trains on both weekends and weekdays will stop at the Ballardvale station.

The weekend service will also be making stops north of us at Lawrence, Bradford and Haverhill, and south of us at North Wilmington, Reading, Wakefield, Greenwood, Melrose Highland, Melrose, and Wyomring Hill, and passengers may travel between any of these points as well as from North Station. Tickets may be purchased on the train, and the one-way fare from Andover is $1.75 for adults, with 12 ticket, monthly, child and senior citizen discount fees. Information on these are available at North Station.

Already begun, track work on the route from Andover to Boston will not interfere with the schedules, and weekday schedules remain the same; however when completed, the work will mean a decrease of running to Andover of about seven minutes. Completion is scheduled for the end of August of this year, as many cross ties both north of Reading and south of Reading to Boston, will be replaced, and the tracks surfaced and lined to permit 10 mph increases in speeds on the section from Wilmington Junction to Boston. Remember: the trains arrive and leave from North Station, which is Boston Garden, with direct to two of the MBTA

Volunteer Tutors Needed

GLEAM (Greater Lawrence Ecumenical Area Ministry) sponsors a tutoring program for Lawrence area Hispanics who would like to improve their English. Some of them know very little English, and some know quite a bit, but would like to improve their pronunciation and/or vocabulary. The tutors already participating in the program have found their tutoring experiences rewarding and enjoyable. Knowledge of Spanish is not necessary, just a willingness to be of assistance and a friend to a Hispanic neighbor. Tutors usually meet with their students once a week for about two hours; time and day is arranged to the convenience of both.

On Tuesday, April 29, at 7:30 p.m. there will be a meeting at GLEAM, 2 Wyman St., Lawrence, for anyone interested in becoming a tutor or who would like more information on the program. Anyone who thinks they might enjoy this experience of learning about another culture while they tutor is urged to attend. Present tutors will share experiences and answer questions for those attending. More information may be obtained by calling the volunteer tutor coordinator, Jo Coombs, or by contacting the GLEAM office in Lawrence.

Car Checks

According to a recent consumer survey, says the Car Care Council, the majority of cars in both self-serv and full-service stations are not checked as often as they should be. Some parts which are critical to fuel economy, such as spark plugs and air filters, are in substandard condition. One of three filters for instance, was found to be dirty. The Council estimates that a car needing a tune-up, spark plugs and an air filter could be consuming gas at a rate 20 percent above normal. Or for a big car using premium gas on the highway, about $1 per hour going out the tail pipe.

Carillon School Director In Concert Tonight

The music department of Phillips Academy, Andover, will sponsor a special recital on the 37-bell carillon in the Academy's Memorial Tower on Thursday, April 24 at 6 p.m.

The featured artist will be the distinguished carillonneur Piet Van Den Broek, City Carillonneur of Mechelen, Belgium, and director of the Royal Carillon School "Jef Denyn" in that city. Van Den Broek is stopping in Andover on his way to the University of California at Berkeley, where he will give two recitals in observance of the Belgian sesquicentennial. The Phillips Academy recital will be his only other performance during the brief visit to this country.

This program marks the second time in the history of Memorial Tower that its carillon has been played by a director of the Royal Carillon School. The first of its kind in the world and one of only three such institutions in existence, the Mechelen Carillon School was founded in 1922 by the great carillonneur Jef Denyn, who almost single-handedly revolutionized the construction of the carillon and established it as a concert instrument in its own right (as a "folk instrument" it has been in existence since the 15th century in the Low Countries of Europe). When Mr. Denyn made his one and only recital tour of the United States in 1927, the Andover carillon was the second that he played.

Jef Denyn's successor as Carillonneur of Mechelen and Director of the Carillon School was the master carillonneur Staf Nees, Denyn's pupil. Upon Nees' death in 1965, the two prestigious posts were awarded to Piet van den Broek, one of the Carillon School's most brilliant graduates. He has won many honors, both as a carillonneur and as a composer of works for solo voice, choir, piano, organ and carillon. In addition to his two principal posts, he is second organist of St. Romhout's Cathedral in Mechelen, conductor of the Royal Choir "Edgar Tinel", and instructor in music theory at the Lemmens Institute in Louvain.

Since its establishment in 1922, the Mechelen Carillon School has attracted many students from various parts of the world. One hundred and eleven of these have received the final or carillonneur's diploma, including fifteen students from the United States. One of the most recent Americans to study at the School with van den Broek is Sally Slade Warner, Carillonneur of Phillips Academy, who received her diploma with great distinction in 1979.

To underline the historic character of his Andover recital, Piet van den Broek will begin and end his program with original pieces written for carillon by Mechelen composer-carillonneurs. Especially significant will be the final group of three pieces composed by the three Directors of the Royal Carillon School, and played in chronological order. The program will also include works by Van den Gheyn, Schepers, Benoit, Schubert, Vogel, Angell, George Gershwin and Richard Rodgers.

The recital is free, and will be given rain or shine. The public is invited to bring lawn chairs or blankets, and picnic suppers. Printed programs will be available in the program holder at the base of Memorial Tower. The Tower is located at the corner of Route 28 and Salem Street on the Phillips Academy campus. This recital is supported by the Sawyer Foundation.

A Nuclear Panel Discussion has been planned for next Thursday, as part of Andover High's "Energy for the '80" Week.

The Ecology Club is sponsoring the debate, in the belief that Andover citizens, only 30 miles from the planned Seabrook Nuclear Power Plant, should be aware of the issues. Furthermore, New England derives a major share of its electricity from nuclear energy.

Students will distribute a glossary of basic nuclear terms to members of the audience as they arrive, and the first 45 minutes of the program will be devoted to an audio-visual program illustrating the basic concepts of the nuclear technologies.

Michael Barrett, State Representative from Reading, will be moderator of the panel portion beginning at 7:45. Participants will include Richard Bell of the Energy Policy Information Center; Joan JoAnne M. Buehler of the Public Service Co. of New Hampshire; Joseph Fitzpatrick, Massachusetts Secretary of Energy; Carla Johnston of the Union of Concerned Scientists and Dr. Katherine Kahn, Physicians for Social Responsibility.

The Shawsheen*

Susan Beattie of 16 Glen Meadow Road, Benjamin Medler of 17 Glen Meadow Road, and Lisa Myskowski of 6 Fairfax Drive took advantage of a beautiful Saturday morning by practicing for AVIS's canoe race along the Shawsheen River. The annual race is scheduled for May 3.

AVIS Canoe Races May 3

The Andover Village Improvement Society (AVIS) will sponsor its tenth annual canoe and kayak race on Saturday, May 3 on the Shawsheen River. Events for all ages and abilities will be scheduled, as well as a separate category in each race for kayaks.

The beginners race, downstream only, will begin at 10 a.m. in Ballardvale. Entrants for this race should meet just below the dam off Dale Street. Registration will start at 9:30.

The intermediate race will begin at 11 a.m. at the Abbott Bridge for a round trip to a halfway point upstream. Entrants may register at the bridge anytime before the start.

The open race starts at noon at the same place. This is a round trip race to Ballardvale.

Races have been scheduled so each canoe can be used for all three races if desired. There will be trophies for each event, including one for the fastest kayak in the open race.

The AVIS Shawsheen River Reservation consists of 28 acres of rural land along the west bank of the river connecting with the Vale Reservation (an additional 46 acres) to provide a continuous stretch of public land from Central St. to Ballardvale, over a mile and a half in length. There is a trail along the river for walking, and several bridges have been built to facilitate crossing wet areas.

The canoe races have always been a popular family activity. The banks of the river provide an ideal area for picnicking and watching the energetic participants.

Piano Recital Sunday

The Music Department of Phillips Academy presents Arminda Canteros in the Addison Gallery at 3 p.m. on Sunday, April 27.

The Argentinian pianist, Arminda Canteros, has won unanimous acclaim from audiences and critics alike for the profound artistry and brilliant virtuosity of her extensive performances throughout South America and Europe.

She received her early training with Emma Bianchini and Enrico Casella, and later completed her studies under Vincenzo Scaramuzza, Ruwin Erlich and Walter Giesekeing.

Following a brilliant debut with the Orquesta Filarmonica at the Teatro Colon in Rosario, she became one of the most sought after performers in Argentina. A highlight of her numerous concerts included the first performance in her native country of the complete cycle of Mozart sonatas. In addition, many Argentinian composers have entrusted her with premieres of their works.

In 1956, at the most promising point in her career, Miss Canteros was involved in a near fatal bus accident which left her with a broken spine. She could not touch the piano for three years, and it was several more years before she could play without effort. With courage, she accomplished a successful return to the concert stage.

The public is cordially invited to attend, and there will be no admission charge.

Geese

All species of geese mate for life. Many geese migrate thousands of miles to nesting grounds above the Arctic Circle where the short Arctic summer allows little time for laying eggs, hatching, and rearing a brood. Time is short so it is advantageous for them to stay together rather than to seek new mates each year, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

Friendly Visitors Organize

A group of community oriented men and women recently organized to assist the Friendly Visitor Program of Andover in its endeavor to find volunteers who will provide friendship for all 60-year-old residents of Andover who are house-bound or in need of companionship.

The group, which will work with Mrs. Gwen Smith, coordinator of the program, elected the following officers: Miss Kathleen Mohan, chairman; Mrs. Eleanor Lyons, vice-chairman; Mrs. Kay Kinski, secretary; Mrs. Janet Lake, treasurer.

Other members of the Friendly Visitor Program Resource Committee are Mrs. Kate Bunnell, Mrs. Mildred Davis, Miss Linda Gioia, Mrs. Mary Hamilton, Rev. Reginald MacDonald, Miss Lisa McConkey, Thomas Powers, Mrs. Jan Sagaser, Sister Georgianna Smith and Miss Lauren Whitley.

The purpose of the resource committee is to help in publicity and to serve as a sounding board for the coordinator in program development. Volunteer visitors are needed to provide a link between older persons, whether in a nursing home or their own private home, and the community. Visitors are required to give an hour a week to his/her older friend.

The Friendly Visitor Program of Andover is a part of the Department of Community Services' Division of Elder Affairs. Anyone interested in becoming a member of the resource committee or a friendly visitor may call Mrs. Smith on Tuesdays or Thursdays, all day, or on Wednesday, in the morning.

It's Been A Long Three Weeks

He came for three weeks — and he stayed for 32 years.

Prof. James A. McGravey, dean of the faculty at Merrimack College who will retire this year, was asked, in 1948, to fill in as a teacher for a few weeks at the newly-formed institution in North Andover.

The cinder-block Guild Hall, the first building on campus, was still under construction. "We were in classes and they were still putting the damned thing up with all the hammering and thumping and noise," says Prof. McGravey.

But his term of service continued, and he was appointed Director of Public Relations and Instructor of English by Merrimack College President Vincent A. McQuade, O.S.A. He served in this dual capacity until 1962, having been appointed Assistant Professor of English in 1957.

Throughout the years, Prof. McGravey has taught undergraduate English courses in Freshman Composition, Feature Writing and Types of Literature.

When Prof. McGravey was presented an honorary degree of Doctor of Literature by Fr. Aherne in 1972, the college president said: "Prof. James A. McGravey singularly demonstrates the strength of Merrimack College which it its teaching. To have maintained a high level of teaching over a quarter of a century is a testament of his dedication to his students and the College which he serves so well."

The presentation address was delivered by Prof. McGravey's long-time associate in the English department, Rev. Joseph A. Flaherty, O.S.A., Ph.D.

Describing Prof. McGravey, Fr. Flaherty said: "There are few — even among the gifted — whose comprehension of the English language and articulateness in its use cannot be deepened and broadened with the help of a skillfull teacher. Merrimack College has had such a teacher. He stands as a forceful rebuttal to the fallacy that the best teachers should be assigned the most advanced courses.

"His concern has been for a clear, straightforward prose. One of his techniques has been to demand numerous exercises which in turn have demanded of him arduous and tedious hours of careful correction and critical comment. There is no glamour in this phase of teaching and the gratitude, when it comes, comes late.

"Perhaps the reward is in seeking progress and meandering and stumbling compositions to firm and precise ones; in seeing respect for language grow as the student becomes more workmanlike and, in some rare cases, even artistic in his use of it.

"The faculty rejoices in having as its longest tenured member a man who has taught conscientiously and skillfully for so long in such a vital area, indispensable to learning."

Prof. McGravey, a native of Lawrence, attended St. John's Preparatory in Danvers and received his B.S. in Journalism at Boston University in 1936. During World War II, as a member of the United States Armed Forces, he was awarded the Silver Star.

At Merrimack he has served as a member of the Modern Language Association, chairman of the Freshman English Committee, a member of the Rank and Tenure Committee, Athletic Council, Financial Aid Committee.

Prof. McGravey is married to the former Irene MacKinnon who also has been a member of the Merrimack College faculty in Chemistry since 1954. They reside in Andover.

Their three children are all graduates of Merrimack. James, Jr., in government work; Vincent Joseph received his master's degree at Tufts, his doctor of medicine at Eastern Medical School, Norfolk, Va., and is now in his second year as Chief Resident at Bay State Medical Center in Springfield, Ma.; Ann Regina who received her doctorate from the University of Mass. Medical in Worcester, is a first year resident at Children's Medical Hospital in Boston.

Lifelike Marionettes Perform

Marionette — a puppet moved by strings or hands. That is what the audience will see at David Syrotiak's performance of "The Little Concert" on Sunday, May 4 at the West Elementary School Auditorium. The day's activities will include a puppet workshop beginning at 1 p.m. and the concert performance which will begin at 3

Not long into the program the audience will find themselves captivated by Syrotiak's amazing skill when his cleverly executed characters take on their life-like qualities. In this real one man show, Syrotiak will unobtrusively put his knee-high puppets through their paces and with great dexterity change partners and props, and handle all of the accompanying taped music and lighting.

In 1964 Syrotiak formed the National Marionette Theatre. He travels more than 45,000 miles a year nation-wide giving shows and has even performed in Moscow.

When in France he was awarded the coveted Union International de la Marionette Citation. A theatre art major, Syrotiak began working with marionettes as a hobby at the age of eight and picked up many of the skills on his own. Currently he has 120 figures in his studio, with many more in the work. He designs the puppet heads made of plastic, wood or poured latex. Four full-time members make up his staff, plus a business manager.

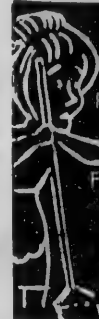

The National Marionette Theatre is sponsored by the Andover Savings Bank and the Department of Community Services. Partial funding for this performance is provided by the New England Foundation for the Arts, The Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities, and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or at the following locations: Cole's, Thompsons, Liggett's Andover Savings Bank and the Department of Community Services.

Auction Preview Sunday

April 27 is the date set for this year's Art and Antique Preview.

The Hawthorne Inn in historic Salem has donated the use of the elegant Pickman Room for the show. The preview of items donated to the 15th annual Channel 2 Auction reflects the combined effort of local artists, businessmen, and volunteers.

Wine and cheese will be served as viewers are allowed to examine the art, antiques, and collectibles for which they may bid during auction week.

The auction provides an opportunity to purchase quality art works, while at the same time, to support public television. The public is invited to browse, free of charge.

Making Music From Scratch

Members of the music classes at Shawsheen School celebrated Music in Our Schools Week recently, by making a variety of music instruments. Accepting Grants

Rev. John A. Coughlan, O.S.A. president of Merrimack College, at right, accepts a $1,600 unrestricted Sears-Roebuck Foundation grant from Charles Worcester, general manager of the Methuen store. This was part of $96,000 distributed by Sears to 62 privately supported colleges and universities in the state. Merrimack has also received unrestricted grants from Lawrence Sand & Stone, $500; Doherty Insurance and Real Estate Agencies, $2,500; Raytheon Co., $1,000; ITT Semiconductors Division, $750 and Craig Systems, $100.

Students See Money Shredded

Fifty-eight students from West Elementary School, Andover, walked off with $400 apiece after a visit to the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston April 18. The money, however, was no longer legal tender; it had been shredded into a pulpy powder and sealed in a plastic bag. The bank destroys about $3 million worth of worn-out currency in this manner every day. It is presented to groups as souvenirs of their tour of the operations areas of the Fed.

Prior to the tour, public services department representatives presented a slide show comparing the features of genuine and counterfeit bills and discussed ways to avoid accepting a counterfeit.

During 1979, 33 million of 78 million U.S. households grew some of their own food according to the National Gardening Survey, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

Doherty school fifth-graders, who started their own "businesses" such as the Doherty Savings Bank and the Doherty Travel Agency as part of their economics studies, enjoyed a "Chamber of Commerce" luncheon Friday. According to NACEL area coordinator Virginia Adams of 279 Pleasant St.,

Original Musical At Pike

A trio of Pike School teachers have joined talents to write and produce a musical show entitled "Onions." For the first time, the annual spring production has been written specifically for Pike Upper School performers. (Over 105 students tried out for the forty parts; another 20 students will be involved in the behind-the-scenes production.)

Reflecting On An Olympic Experience

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

Lake Placid the XIII Olympic Winter Games at people's mind, still reasonably fresh in repay your nice thought it only fair to send-off with some of my photographic observations on the events. Ed Peterson and Ted Sutton, also Andover participants, might see things differently, as we were working on different jobs, on different parts of Whiteface Mountain.

First and foremost, the approximately 425 volunteers who gathered in Lake Placid to stage the Alpine ski races (downhill, slalom, giant slalom) at Whiteface, accomplished their task: they cooperated with the mountain staff and the foreign officials to run races as scheduled, on time, and on perfectly prepared courses. In a nearly snowless year, that was a monumental accomplishment. When you cut through all the bad news about public transportation and the questionable TV coverage and commentary, we achieved for the athletes what we set out to do, and did it well. I have the impression that the same can be said for the other sports, at other venues in Lake Placid, though I must say, disappointedly, that I was so busy at Whiteface that I wasn't able to get out to the jump, to luge, bobsled, etc. Maybe I'll go to Sarajevo as a spectator, so I can see the XIV Winter Games.

I've been asked how I happened to go to work on the Olympics, to join what turned out to be the most over-qualified crew of workers ever assembled to run a series of ski races. In the spring of 1977, all Alpine Officials of the United States Ski Association were asked by the Lake Placid Olympic Organizing Committee (LPOOC) to express their interest in working on the 1980 Olympics (OWG) by submitting a resume of their officiating and skiing experience through the divisional offices, collecting endorsements along the way. We also committed to work, not only the Olympic period, but two weeks in 1978 and two weeks in 1979, on high-level events at Whiteface. 1978 and 1979 were at our expense; once we got to Lake Placid this year, expenses were minimal. Having skied since 1937, been active in running alpine ski races since the early '50's, and with all four children having raced at one time or another, what choice was there? It all sort of nubs down to a question posed by a friend to whom I'd been recounting the various problems and disappointments at Lake Placid. He interrupted by woeful litany, asking, "Dick, would you really put have stayed home?"

Public transportation in the Olympic region, for the week, was as bad as you've heard about. I saw that the workers got out to Whiteface each day, though the getting back was less well arranged, and travel to dinner was iffy, too. Accommodations were 12 people to a trailer, which was reasonably comfortable, with hot water in good supply. Our gang got on well, with fleeting talk about staying for the rest of the winter. When we got to our dining hall, the food was better than expected; not gourmet, but good. The blue uniforms, or "Clone suits" were also a pleasant surprise, as they were well designed for the job, and I got a good fit. Good equipment, too, with skis from K2, also poles, bindings from Tyrolia, and Dolomite boots. You didn't have to take these freebies, but if you did, you had to agree to wear them at Whiteface: not unreasonable to ask.

Another good piece of equipment I got to know and love was my plastic, scoop snow shovel. I don't think I got to ski with poles more than a day or two in total — I always had my faithful companion with me instead, sometimes with a crowbar as well. Early on, we were told to put our ski wax on cross-wise, as we'd only be sideslipping; more truth than poetry we found out. After two days of putting final touches on courses already well-prepared by the mountain and early-arriving volunteers, it then proceeded to snow for seven consecutive days. Not much, but it kept coming, and each flake had to be removed, as new snow is soft, unpredictable, and bad for racing. The berms we had built up those first two days, to keep racers from sliding under the nets, grew so much that we had to shovel the nets off at the end of the downhill week!

After the downhills, I was stationed at Gate 1 for all the other events. You saw me on TV, but as an unfocused blue blur. Also, whenever you saw that first gate get knocked out by a racer, it was back in place before the next racer started, right? I was there.

The competitors ranged from the best in the world to what appeared to me to be just ordinary skiers. The Olympic rules, giving all member countries a chance to field a team, lead to widely varying levels of skill and experience. I was told that one of the ladies, rather than charging out of the starting gate for the downhill, had the start officials polish her goggles, put on her helmet, and practically give her a push. She then put in three check turns before the first gate of course!

In closing, while the events went off well, and many things were good, I am still left with the unsettling feeling that the Lake Placid residents and the LPOOC still do not understand they could not have put on these XII OWG without immense infusions of help from outside the Town of North Elba. Whether a town of 2500 could ever really have been expected to put on events of this magnitude is questionable, but not for me to decide. What I know is there was too often the right gesture or action, taken too late and without advance notice and communication, so the good effect was lost. Too many suggestions from experienced, knowledgeable outsiders were passed up the line and never heard from again. Easy to extrapolate the transportation problems from my alpine experiences, but I only know my part of the puzzle.

On a positive note, I think back to late one afternoon in the winter of 1979, when the Whiteface snow was not as well made and our mountain crews had had to work hard, using all their considerable skill and experience to get the courses into racing condition. Beck's Crew and Bennett's Crew (of which I was a part) gathered at the foot of "Niagara" (about the steepest section of the downhill course). We'd worked hard, and we were not sure we were appreciated. We concluded that we knew we were good, and that we knew we'd done a good job; what else mattered? With that, we sideslipped down the rest of the course, shovel at the ready, facing the next day with confidence. Perhaps that will be by best Olympic experience, useful elsewhere, too.

Andover To Host Conference

More than 1,600 United Church of Christ members have been called to meet in Andover on April 25, 26 and 27 for the 181st annual meeting of the Massachusetts Conference (UCC). A long-standing practice for the Commonwealth's oldest and largest Protestant denomination, the gathering will enable elected delegates from 482 Bay State churches to vote budgets and decide next year's program emphasis. This year, a resolution on draft registration is expected to spark much discussion. Some 1,000 lay and clergy delegates are expected to attend the three-day session held in Cochran Chapel on the campus of Phillips Academy in Andover.

Friday evening, April 25, a nationally-known church development specialist, Douglas A. Walrath, will deliver the keynote address entitled "Getting Ready for the 80's." This will set the stage for series of small-group meetings scheduled throughout the conclave. According to the program chairman, the Rev. Paul Varga of Shrewsbury, "this format change is designed to stimulate more individual expressions of opinion."

Both plenary and small-group sessions will stress church concerns for the coming decade. Specifically, ideas relating to two questions will be sought: "How can the church attract young adults?" and "How should the church deal with inflation?"

Saturday's program will include a morning address by the minister and president of the conference, Rev. Dr. Alfred E. Williams. That evening a concert by the Talladega College Choir will be featured.

Corrosion

Spring is also the time to check the muffler and exhaust pipes for corrosion, notes the ALA Auto and Travel club, which further advises checking the pipes for holes through which dangerous exhaust fumes might escape.

Talladega College in Alabama is one of five UCC-related black colleges in the south.

Preaching at the traditional worship service on Sunday, April 27, will be Dr. Burgess Carr, currently teaching at the Harvard Divinity School and formerly Executive Director of the All Africa Council of Churches.

The campus of Phillips Academy in Andover is where Congregationalists founded what is now Andover Newton Theological School in 1907. Now located in Newton and related to both the UCC and Baptist denominations, it is the oldest Protestant graduate school of theology in the United States.

Members and ministers of UCC churches in the vicinity of Andover are involved with many aspects of planning for the UCC event. Mrs. Faith Johnson, a member of the West Parish Church in Andover, is assisting overall planning for the meeting. Two members and the minister of South Church in Andover have important jobs: Mrs. Jennifer Rogers has charge of registration and Austin Anderson chairs local planning, while the Rev. Westy Egmont serves as liaison between the Town of Andover and the Massachusetts Conference.

Mrs. Edna McIntyre and Mrs. Doris Smith of the Ballard Vale United Church in Andover are making private housing arrangements. Joseph Boardman of the Trinitarian Church in North Andover has charge of transportation.

The Rev. Gordon Naser of the Pawtucket Congregational Church in Lowell will direct the tellers and ushers, and the Rev. Frederic A. Pease, Jr. is preparing space and equipment.

For the outdoor picnic scheduled for noon on Saturday, April 26, all details are in the hands of Mrs. Daniel Warner from the First Congregational Church in Methuen. The youth of that church will help prepare and serve the meals.

To Discuss Alcoholism

Father Joseph C. Martin, nationally-known exponent on the disease of alcoholism, will appear May 23 at Central Catholic High School Auditorium. Sponsored by the Department of Alcoholism Services of Lawrence General Hospital, Father Martin's message will focus on "Symptoms of Sobriety."

In April of 1978 the "chalk-talk" priest spoke to a standing-room only audience at Central's 1400 seat hall on "Alcoholism and the Family."

A dynamic inspiration to many thousands of recovering alcoholics the world over, Father Martin is a strong power of example because of his own, personal recovery from the dread disease.

"To Heal Through Teaching" is the philosophy Father Martin advocates and he has dedicated the remainder of his life and ministry to this end which he views as a new beginning.

Not only does he conduct a hectic schedule of speaking engagements in all corners of the world, but Fr. Martin has made several films which have become widely acclaimed teaching-tools in the vast field of alcoholism. Some of his more popularly requested, are: "Chalk Talk on Alcoholism"; "Guidelines"; "Chalk-Talk on Counseling"; "Alcoholism in Industry"; "Alcoholism and the Family" and many others.

Rev. Joseph C. Martin

The general public is invited to hear Father Martin's lecture at 8:30 p.m., Friday, May 23rd. Tickets may be obtained by contacting Lawrence General Hospital, Department of Alcoholism services and the Detoxification Unit, 32-34 Haverhill Street, Lawrence, Ma. 01841.

West Parish Youth Host Choir

The choir of Talladega College will be dinner guests of the West Parish Church young people, on Saturday night, April 26 preceding their performance at the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Conference, United Church of Christ at Cochran Chapel.

Talladega College, an independent co-educational liberal arts college, was founded by The American Missionary Association in 1867. During that period, the association founded several educational institutions to enable blacks, recently freed from slavery, to gain the skills necessary to take their place in society. The college now has a very high percentage of the students continuing in graduate schools, especially in medicine.

The Talladega Choir is a very central part of the college. It takes young people from large cities, rural Southern Communities, trains them in the finest music, and expands their world view. The choir, has sung with the Birmingham Symphony Orchestra.

The West Parish Church will also participate in the annual meeting by hosting the board of directors at a luncheon on Sunday. The West Parish church is sending their delegates Phil Kimball, Nat and Dot Mann as well as the staff.

International Buffet Caps Doherty Study

Doherty School sixth graders wound up a six-week study of their heritage with an international buffet luncheon in the classroom last Friday. During the six-week period the students made flags and maps, and completed research projects and bulletin board displays on the countries their ancestors came from. Foreign students from France, Germany, Spain and Norway were guest speakers at Friday's buffet.

In photos, clockwise from bottom left: Dana Difiore of 54 Whittier St., age 3, enjoys dessert during his visit to the luncheon; Greg Long of 109 Main St. sits before a tableful of international desserts; and Ruvina Carver of 21 Washington Ave., sporting a Scottish cap, opts for an apple.

Marathon Women

Women were unofficial marathon entrants for six years before they were officially accepted in the Boston Marathon in 1972. Kathy Switzer, one of the first women to join the field, made Marathon history in 1967 when she entered as "K. Switzer." When a race official Jock Semple saw her, he dashed onto the road and attempted to tear off her number — but one of Switzer's co-runners bumped Semple from the Path and "K." continued on to finish the race.

Carol W. Lamb

June Wedding Is Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott S. Lamb of Ridgewood, N. J., formerly of Andover, announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol, to Richard J. Byrne, son of Mrs. Valery Byrne and the late Mr. Byrne of Augusta, Ga.

The prospective bride, the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carleton E. Shulze of Andover is a magna cum laude graduate of Boston University. She is employed as an occupational therapist.

Her fiancé, a graduate student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will finish his engineering studies in May.

The plan to be married in June.

area at Founder's Day, April 30, at Indian Ridge Country Club, Andover.

In 1955, eight women were granted the first charter in Andover, and during the past 25 years the sorority has grown until at the present time there are three chapters with members from towns in the Merrimack Valley and southern New Hampshire.

This year also marks the 49th anniversary of the founding of the cultural, social and service sorority. From the first chapter of seven women in Abilene, Kansas, Beta Sigma Phi has grown to an international membership of 12,000 chapters in 32 countries, offering a continuing program in the liberal arts to its members.

In addition to its local service projects such as the Heart Fund, Fund the Cerebral Palsy Assoc., Tewksbury State Hospital, donations for cancer equipment and research, through its International Endowment Fund the sorority has donated over a million dollars to health research groups such as St. Jude's Children's Hospital, Dr. Sidney Farber Research Institute, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and Stanford Kidney Research; homes for underprivileged children such as Girls Town U.S.A. and Literacy Village in India, as well as hundreds of college scholarships.

Mrs. J. Duncan Black, president of Preceptor, the hostess chapter for Founder's Day, will open the program by welcoming members from the three chapters, as well as many early members who have been invited to this special 25th observance. Mrs. Thomas Repczynski, president of Beta Mu chapter, will offer a special Beta Sigma Phi Grace and Mrs. Everett Belisle, president of Ki Sigma chapter, will lead the group in the solemn Founder's Day Pledge.

Mrs. David Lockwood will bring to the members a special Founder's Day message from Walter W. Ross III, son of the founder of Beta Sigma Phi.

Following special awards, entertainment will be provided by Mel Simons, who will give a presentation on well known radio personalities.

Co-chairmen of Founder's Day are Mrs. David Lockwood, Mrs. Arthur Seikunas and Mrs. Luis Salazar.

Building

moderator James Doherty read the results.

Urging town meeting to vote no on the article, Donal Coleman of 91 High St. said Doherty is "the greatest elementary school in the country" and asked that the school be kept open.

(Coleman also proposed a secret ballot be used for the vote, but the suggestion was voted down unanimously.)

Former school committeeman Dr. Richard Katz of 68 Phillips St. added that the decision to build a new junior high school should not have been "tied" to the need to close an elementary school due to declining enrollments.

"It seems that it would have been much more simple to use the West Elementary school as a junior high," said Katz, urging a no vote because it would give the school committee "a marvelous opportunity to rethink its priorities."

The second part of the article called for renovations to the high school, including the addition of a 1250-seat auditorium, at a total cost of $4,370,000.

Voters began to applaud as soon as they stood up to vote in favor of the high school project, as it was immediately apparent that it had won the needed two-thirds majority vote.

John Doyle of 40 Reservation Road, a non-voting member of the school building committee who called himself "the black sheep" of that committee, spoke against the high school renovations because he said the planned 1250-seat auditorium would be inadequate to serve the town's needs. "Andover is not the tightwad town that some people think it is," said Doyle, "and we should do this right, for a change."

FinCom member Robert Merrill, concerned about high interest rates that would penalize the town for starting "three major construction projects" now, suggested that both the renovations to the high school and to West junior high be deferred.

However, "there is a season for all things," said Fred Fitzgerald of 95 Central St., "and the season for deliberation has passed — this is the time for action." Fitzgerald said the town could not afford to put off renovating the schools any longer.

After the first and most controversial two parts of the article had won approval, voters began to leave the Phillips Academy cage.

The final part of the article called for renovations to West junior high school at a cost of $1,050,000. Voters laughed as school committeeman John Eaton read the lengthy motion at top speed. The renovations were approved with no discussion.

Building Committee Chairman Kenneth Gropper then stepped to the microphone to thank town meeting for its support of the building program his committee has labored over for a year and a half. With emotion in his voice, Gropper said he now "looked forward to completing Andover's secondary education program."

A Manager To Oversee Project

The town's first step toward realizing the newly-approved $11 million school building program will be to consider hiring a construction manager to oversee all phases of the construction, Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark said Friday.

"Now that the town has voted to spend the money on this project, I don't intend to waste it," said Clark. "It is absolutely critical that the project receives the proper supervision."

Clerks of the works will be retained to act as the town manager's "on-site pair of eyes" during construction Clark said, "but clerks are not necessarily (capable of acting as) managers on a project of this size — this is not a small project."

A construction manager, either an individual or a construction firm, would administer and supervise the construction project, said Clark.

The construction manager would "be my eyes and ears and brains on the project to verify that the work was being performed in the proper sequence and materials ordered on time," explained Clark.

Other responsibilities of the construction manager would be to "double check" on the general contractor, and coordinate and direct the duties of the clerks of the works, he added.

In addition, the town could save up to ten percent of construction costs if a construction manager is also used in place of a general contractor, the town manager said.

Using a construction manager in this way would allow the town, rather than a general contractor, to put out bids with sub-contractors directly. The town would thus save the general contractor's mark-up fee for putting out bids.

"This would increase our front-end administrative costs," Clark explained, "but it would reduce our total project cost."

A construction manager, if hired, will also help the town prepare to put out bids at the end of this year, the town manager said.

Andover High Examines "Energy For 80's"

Andover High students were on vacation for this week's observance of the second Earth Day. But they'll follow it up in spirit, beginning Monday, with "Energy for the 80's Week."

According to Social Studies Department Head Hartley Peakes, Energy Week will concentrate on the environmental and economic impact of energy issues that are confronting the country today, and will include exhibits and programs for the public as well as students. Andover High observed the first Earth Day 10 years ago, with a variety of activities.

The week is a joint effort of students, led by Brenda Marotto, and staff, and will feature speakers, demonstrations, energy films and TV productions.

Speakers on Monday will discuss the home insulation and otherwise how to make a home more energy efficient, and will give our print materials explaining the properties of different insulating products to participants.

Tuesday, the New England Solar Energy Center will provide slides on solar and related alternatives, and there will be a video tape discussion of a solar hot water installation.

On Wednesday, Judy Shope of the League of Women Voters will speak on energy renewables and Guy McDonald will talk about wood burning stoves. Steve Hallee's topic on Thursday will be wind generators; Ronald Howland of Mass Electric will talk about future energy resources and Prof. Walter Stickney of Northeastern University will talk about the technical, economic and moral choices of energy alternatives.

Friday, Mary Cretella of Mobil Tyco Corp. will give a slide lecture on photovoltaic cell and Peakes give a video tape presentation on the history of hydroelectric power on the Merrimack River.

Two events in particular will be open to the public: Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Hall Library, the lieutenant governor's office is sponsoring a slide presentation on ways to conserve energy in the home.

Next Thursday, Andover High's Ecology Club is sponsoring a panel discussion on nuclear energy, in the West Jr. High Auditorium beginning at 7:30. Participants will include the representatives of the Energy Policy Information Center, Massachusetts Department of Energy, Physicians for Social Responsibility, Public Service Co. of New Hampshire and Union of Concerned Scientists. The moderator will be State Rep. Michael Barrett of Reading. Admission will be free.

Gov. Edward King has proclaimed April 28 to May 2 "Energy for the 80's Week," according to Aaron Gershenberg, who is on the steering committee.

Recycling Interest Apparent

By Virginia Cole

The inquiries about recycling by both phone and mail are coming in rapidly these days. A man from Methuen brought over his winter's supply of glass to put in front of my house last week. A girl from Salem, N. H. will bring her glass to Andover weekly when she comes for dancing lessons. These people want to recycle and can't find any other place to help them. All we have to do is go out the front door and put our glass and paper near the curb.

Letters have come from Rockport, with questions about programs for school children and another from a student in Ohio doing research on curbside pickup projects. He wants to start one in Yellow Springs. We'll try to help him.

It never seems quite clear how they hear about us — but it does seem that there is more and more interest out there.

We have a lot of bags of aluminum ready to sell and we thank you all for saving and also appreciate those who tried to save but didn't get just the right material. It was great of you to take back your steel cans. Hope you'll find aluminum next time.

Paper prices are up now so if your stove isn't needing so much paper, please think of us. When we started last July we were getting $8 per tone, now we are receiving $30 per ton. It is worth it to save papers. The reason your last paper collection was late was that a lot of you did think of us and the truck had to go to Lawrence often to dump. Sorry for the inconvenience but that is the kind of problem we like. If it happens again, don't worry about the paper getting wet. They will take it, wet or dry. Just leave it there — with a rock on it so it won't blow and they'll get it as soon as possible.

Next week, I'll have dates when you can bring things to sell at the auction. Clean up week is coming — but don't throw away — recycle.

AFS Group Is Host To Students

The Andover High American Field Service (AFS) club recently hosted 16 students from Pikesville, Maryland, who were taking part in an AFS short term exchange program. It was the second meeting for many of the Andover and Pikesville students, since several Andover High students, including Malaysian exchange student Poh Lin Khoo, spent a week in March in the suburban Baltimore community.

The Pikesville students spent the week as guests of Andover families and as visiting students at Andover High. Other activities for the week included trips to Boston to see Quincy Market, the Aquarium and other museums, tours of area colleges and universities and a tour of Phillips Academy.

Short term exchanges between American high schools are among the many foreign and domestic exchange programs sponsored by AFS, designed to promote inter and intra-national understanding.

To help raise funds for the above mentioned programs, the Andover chapter of AFS, along with the Andover Community Schools and Recreation Department, will be sponsoring the fifth annual Andover Crafts in the Park on Saturday, May 10, from 10 until 4. The craft show will be held at Memorial Park, near Andover Center. A rain date has been set for Sunday, May 11.

Inspection Finds Our Buildings Wanting

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Town Hall, Memorial Hall Library, and the Essex street theatre building are each in violation of at least 50 public and fire safety codes, according to reports compiled by the building and fire inspectors this month.

Fifteen town-owned buildings were inspected; all but four proved to be in violation of safety codes, Building Inspector William Meins wrote in a report to the town manager, which was recently presented to the selectmen.

The violations range from those that could easily be corrected, such as improper storage of flammable materials, to those requiring major renovations, such as lack of handicapped access.

The town does not hold current certificates of use and occupancy, or certificates of inspection, which are required for town-owned buildings, said Meins.

Some of the violations must be corrected immediately, according to Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark, and can be corrected "with minimal expenditures."

"But before we put elevators in town hall and the theatre building (to meet handicapped access requirements) I'd like to know whether they could be put elsewhere," he added.

The town manager believes the town may be able to cut the cost of bringing the buildings up to code by moving all town and school administrative offices into East Junior High after that school is closed, approximately three years from now.

"It may prove more cost-effective to renovate one building than to put a lot of money into renovating all the existing buildings," Clark said.

Funds to study reuse of East were approved by town meeting last week, after voters approved the school bonding article.

(The school building program calls for Doherty elementary school to be converted into a junior high and East junior high to be closed, with its Memorial Hall wing to be used as part of the new junior high.

(The Stowe and Jackson schools, where school administrative offices are now located, will be torn down to make room for additions onto Doherty, said Clark.)

Although the building inspector said the violations should be corrected within 30 days after the reports were filed on April 4, the selectmen have deferred discussion of the reports until their May 5 conference session.

The selectmen have asked Meins to estimate the cost of repairing the buildings: "We would like to try to get a very good understanding of the have-tos and the how-tos on this," said Selectman Susan Poore.

The town manager said that Andover, like "most municipalities", has been guilty of "under-funding maintenance on buildings."

In addition to the library, town hall and theatre building, which had the greatest number of violations, the other buildings found to be in violation of codes were the police and fire stations, the West Andover and Ballardvale fire stations, the Department of Public Works garage, the tree department building, the West Andover community center, and the Lowell Street water treatment plant.

Four buildings found to be in good or excellent shape were the Riverina road pumping station, the Pump's Pond building, the Fish Brook pumping station, and the Iceland road garage.

Financial Consideration

Finances, schools and buildings would have to be the topic during this conference on the floor of town meeting last week. From left, Elaine Viehmann, school committee chairman; Kenneth Gropper, school building committee chairman and Donn Byrne, chairman of the finance committee.

Builders, Homeowners Oppose Wetlands Act

With builders and homeowners alike against it, the proposed wetlands protection bylaw (Article 47) was defeated by a wide margin at town meeting last week, despite the fact that town officials supported the article.

The bylaw was intended to parallel existing state law (Chapter 131, Section 40), Conservation Commission Chairman Robert Pustell told the voters.

Before discussion began, Pustell said the commission no longer wished to extend its control of wetlands to include "recreation and aesthetics," and would delete those two words from the article because of "community opposition."

The bylaw would "fix our current level of (wetlands) protection" because the state law is subject to change, Pustell said. "We want to maintain an attractive and open community, and it is very important that we do not suffer from the political vicissitudes of the state's swaying back and forth."

Individual homeowners would not be prevented from "cutting trees or other normal maintenance activity" under the bylaw, he explained.

Frank McBride of the Planning Board added that wetlands protection is "clearly an important part of land use control — the Planning Board strongly supports this article."

The selectmen also supported the article, said Selectman Susan Poore.

But several homeowners spoke out against the bylaw, which would have controlled the use of any land within 100 ft. of any wetlands.

"This is a distasteful infringement on me as a homeowner living with a wetlands behind my property," said Don Sorrie of 17 Abbott Bridge Drive, "and the fact that it is already a state law does not make it any less distasteful."

George Neilson of 74 Bartlet St. said the town bylaw was unnecessary because "we already have the wherewithal to protect ourselves by state statutes." Neilson said he also objected to a section of the bylaw that would put the burden of proof on the homeowner, rather than the conservation commission, requiring the homeowner to "prove himself guilty."

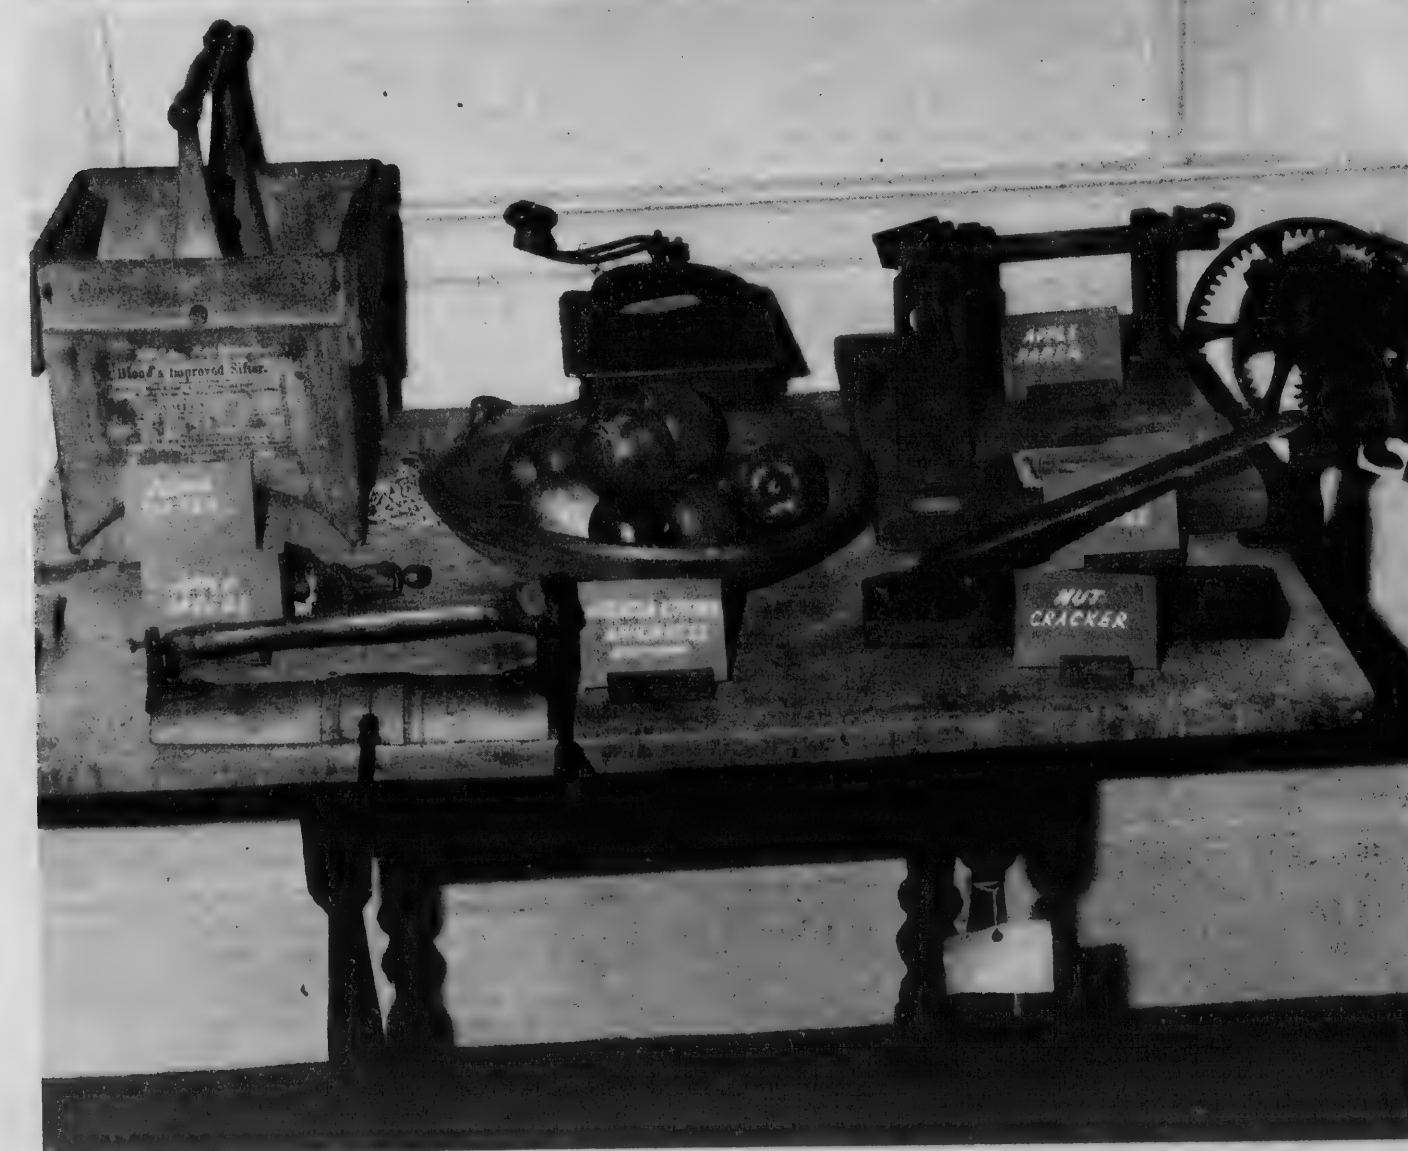

Repeating comments he had made earlier at a conservation commission public hearing, William Foster of 96 Central St. said the bylaw would deprive the homeowner of the right to "cut down trees, or do anything with his land but pay the taxes and the bank."

Representing the Builders' Association, Atty. Reginald Marden said local builders opposed the bylaw partly because it would require builders to appear in superior court to appeal conservation commission decisions. Under the existing state law, appeals are heard by the state Department of Environmental Quality Engineering (DEQE).

"Under the present system, an engineer renders a preliminary opinion (in an appeals case), using engineering expertise," said Marden. "This is the proper place for appeals — not in a protracted trial before the court."

Marden added that the bylaw would be unfair to both developers and landowners, warning that the term "wetlands does not necessarily mean that you have water on the surface, such as a pond. It is merely determined by certain statutory types of plants that may exist in the area."

Historical Society's Barn Museum Is Reopening May 4

Now that mild weather is at hand, the Barn Museum of the Andover Historical Society at 97 Main St., housed in a 1818 structure, will have its first opening of the season on Sunday, May 4 from 2-4. Admission on this day will be free and the public is invited to view hundreds of artifacts revealing basic life style in Andover during the 19th century.

As a result of the generosity of local donors and the foresight of past members of this historical society, the collection of articles revealing the work and life style of our forefathers has great scope.

The visitor can see how food was produced and prepared, how cloth and clothing were made at home, the hand tools used for building shelter and the devices employed for heating and lighting their houses long before the days of electricity. Hand made cribs, cradles and baby carriages suggest how children were cared for in the old days.

To understand the role of the numerous artifacts on display, it is necessary first to step back in history at least a century to the day when tools were operated by man-power and most heavy equipment and goods were moved by ox or horse power. This was a time when most residents were self-sufficient farmers not only producing their own food but also making their own clothing and sometimes building their own houses and barns. The family was as self sustaining a unit as possible, buying only what it could not produce.

Many of the artifacts in the Barn Museum have to do with the most basic need of life: food.

Food production is shown by plows and other field equipment. Milk processing is revealed by hand-operated cream separators and butter churns.

For farm animals used for power these are ox yokes, horse shoes, harness and bits.

The barn has a wealth of utensils used for food preparation and preservation: apple parers, choppers and slicers, mortars and pestles, cast iron kettles and of all kinds and sizes, tin ware, wooden bowls, crocks, jugs and jars.

The barn houses small flax and large wool spinning wheels for making yarn, primitive sewing machines for making clothes, and articles for clothing maintenance such as boilers, wringers, baskets and irons for pressing.

Shown in the barn loft are shoe making and shoe repairing equipment including a cobbler's bench.

If food and clothing are basic, so is shelter. The barn has a great assortment of woodworking tools such as wooden and metal bit braces, augers, wooden planes including tongue-and-groove, bow and cross cut saws used for lumber and for building construction. It also contains examples of hand-made hinges and hardware.

Once a house is built, it has to be heated and lighted. There are numerous kerosene lamps and lanterns, candle moulds and lanterns, even early matches. Displayed are old cast-iron stoves, now undergoing a revival, foot-warming stones for use in carriages and in church and both copper and bras bed warmers.

Travel is not overlooked in the collection. Shown early bicycles including a 1850

In Summation

A few comments on the annual town meeting before assigning this year's edition to the permanent records, seems in order this week.

It still is somewhat surprising that the meeting and the issues contained therein, went along so smoothly, defying even the prediction that it would require four nights at least to complete all the business.

But the fact that the meeting moved along so smoothly is, again, due to the fact that the various town boards and committees had done their homework well before the opening gavel was pounded down.

Even the multi-million dollar school building project, was given little in the way of resistance.

That the $11 million bond issue and the entire project supported was attributable to two major factors.

First, of course, the school building committee has done a commendable job, once they determined the proper course to take. All facets of the town's needs were examined over a two year period in an effort to bring before the voters of the town a project to satisfy the town's educational requirements at the least possible cost.

Once the facts and plans were provided, the committee, along with educators prepared an effective presentation for town meeting, one which met with little question, and only a smattering of opposition.

Second factor in the success of approval for the project, was the overwhelming support provided by those most effected the school department.

We would estimate that most of the aculty, PTO groups, parents interested in particular programs, were on hand for the ultimate decision. We also suppose that telephones in Andover rang with considerable consistency on Wednesday, in order to get the people there. Initially, it was felt the project would not reach town meeting floor until Thursday.

But, the school department was out in force, even to the point of non-residents checking in to view what ultimately will effect their jobs.

We must assume that such interest is not entirely selfish, but a sign of sincere interest in Andover's school system.

Somewhat regrettable was the loss, once again of the rebuilding of the lodge in Recreation Park.

The facility burned down a couple of years ago and attempts since then to rebuild the facility have failed to win voter approval.

This year, with offers of assistance in construction from Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational students along with some funding through the sale of Cardinal Cushing gym, it appeared the much-needed lodge may win approval.

But it was not to be, and voters have again rejected providing a much needed facility at Recreation park and for the community services department.

There was the usual self-interest groups who attended only long enough to see that their particular issues were voted through. But such is the tenor of an open town meeting and municipalities must anticipate this as long as the system prevails.

The school people, to their credit, remained after the school building program was acted upon and thus permitted completion of the warrant, despite the lateness of the hour.

Such was not the case following approval of a new gravel pit bylaw when several supporters made a mass exodus, even though many important items remained to be decided.

Finally, a note of commendation to Jim Doherty, the moderator, for conducting a well-run meeting. He maintained control of the session throughout, allowed all sides a fair chance to present their feelings, and generally kept things moving along. A little laugh or two, to break things up along the way helped retain a pleasant mood, which is a necessity when you're in the process of spending a few million dollars.

It was a memorable session. Unfortunately, however it is conceivable the memory will linger a long time and be recalled twice a year when the tax bills are mailed.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — April 1905

Notices have been posted by the police department, notifying owners of dogs that their taxes are now due and must be paid before May 1.

The fire department had a two hours' fight with a brush fire in Carmel woods on Tuesday afternoon. Several fine young trees were destroyed.

At the regular meeting of the selectmen held on Monday afternoon considerable business was transacted. Newton Jacquith was appointed night watchman; the Lawrence Gas company was granted permission to erect poles to supply electric light service in various parts of the town which are at present unlighted; and seven junk dealers' licenses were granted.

Local people are interested in the tests being made by the city of Lawrence to locate water in Frye Village.

Fee and Moncur are to paint three houses for Walter Seacole on Main street and one for John Clinton of Ballardvale.

50 Years Ago — April 1930

There has been a request for training courses in housework to be conducted at the Andover Guild. Inexperienced girls and women find it difficult to secure positions because of lack of training. To meet this condition Miss Anna Kohn will organize classes in simple cooking, care of children, and the duties of housemaid and waitress!

A campfire kindled Tuesday afternoon about three o'clock by two Lawrence boys near Foster's Pond was the cause of a serious forest fire which raged through several miles of woodland requiring nearly 200 men and apparatus from Lawrence, North Reading and Danvers to bring it under control.

A cloudless sky on Monday afternoon offered ideal conditions to those who wished to observe the partial eclipse of the sun which took place between the hours of 3:17 and 5:37. Smoked glass enabled many to watch the progress of the eclipse.

Motor bus transportation replaced electric cars on the Andover line between the Tyer Rubber company and the top of Andover hill, on Thursday, while the electric line underwent repairs.

Four hundred thousand tons of ice were destroyed Tuesday morning in Andover when fire swept one of the two large ice houses maintained on the shores of Pomp's pond by the People's Ice company, a subdivision of the Metropolitan Ice company. The total damage was estimated at $10,000 by Chief Charles F. Emerson of the Andover Fire department.

25 Years Ago — April 1955

A five-man committee to study the advisability of the town manager or other executive type of government for Andover as approved at the March 21 town meeting has been named by Town Moderator Roland H. Sherman.

In conjunction with the observance of the 126th anniversary of the founding of Abbot Academy on Saturday, May 7, ground will be broken for a new gymnasium.

The Punchard high school All Girls Band will take part in the annual Northeastern Massachusetts Music Festival sponsored by the Massachusetts Music Education Association, which will be held on Saturday, May 7 at Beverly.

The Catalinas, a girls' swimming group from the Andover Youth Center, are presenting an aquacade on Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Phillips Academy pool.

Albert Richmond, local engineer and a member of the town's technical advisory committee, has made a survey of the Town House with a view to changes to provide more adequate office space for town departments.

Carter Broods Over Iran, But He Doesn't Ask Experts' Help

By JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON -- Like the average American, Jimmy Carter sometimes feels exasperated over the Iranian crisis. Sources close to the president tell us he is frustrated over his inability to free the American hostages.

He spends hours alone brooding about the problem. Since the hostages were seized, he has become more moody, more irritable, more brusque with subordinates.

Carter doesn't have temper tantrums; he just turns grim. He becomes silent and secluded. He tends to shut himself off -- even from the professional crisis managers. He reads their reports. He studies their recommendations. He stays up late at night memorizing details -- often trivial details.

But he seldom consults with the professionals. He relies instead upon his wife Rosalynn and his top aide, Hamilton Jordan.

The president could draw on a professional Foreign Service, with hundreds of skilled diplomats. Instead, he sent 35-year-old Jordan to Europe and Panama to negotiate a secret solution. Jordan made several trips, disguised in a gray wig, false mustache and tinted glasses.

Carter could also call upon the Central Intelligence Agency, which has trusted contacts around the world. In fact, the CIA has good connections inside Iran itself. But the president used a shady Argentine fixer and a leftist French lawyer, who were friends of Jordan.

Already, one senior consular officer has resigned from the Foreign Service -- because, as he put it, "The Carter administration doesn't have a clue how to conduct foreign policy."

INFLEXIBLE CHAIRMAN: Some economists are predicting that interest rates will soon peak, that they will tumble back down to 10 percent by the end of the year.

Don't count on it. Those who want lower interest rates must reckon with Paul Volcker. He is the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board and the man President Carter put in charge of monetary controls.

He is not an easy man to argue with. He stands 6 feet, 7 inches tall. He tends to talk down to people, and he can rattle off economic jargon so fast that few people can understand it.

The president invited several congressmen to meet with Volcker on March 18. No records were kept, except for a tape recording that White House aides have locked up.

Carter started off the secret session by admitting, surprisingly, that balancing the budget wouldn't have much impact on inflation. But he stressed that it would be an important symbol to the voters.

Several congressmen criticized Volcker's sky-high credit policies. They complained that the 20 percent prime rate was driving businessmen into bankruptcy and consumers to the poor house.

Volcker was unapologetic. He responded that the credit rates would not come down until the economy cools off. Some angry congressmen denounced this monetary policy as most punishing for the poor and elderly.

But Volcker remained adamant. He declared that he would keep money tight no matter how many workers lose their jobs, no matter how many small businesses are closed down.

BOOK DEAL? The Carter administration is suing former CIA agent John Stockwell for violating his secrecy agreement with the agency. Stockwell wrote the book, "In Search of Enemies," which exposed the spy agency's secret operations in Angola. Now, the government wants him to turn over any money he has made on the book as a sort of fine. But a deal may be in the works. Stockwell has offered to submit future writings to the CIA for pre-publication clearance if the government will drop its case against him. If not, Stockwell says, he'll be bankrupted.

MILITARY PROBLEMS: The Islamic Republic of Iran is having some trouble keeping its military machine well-oiled. Its Air Force was, for the most part, made in the United States. But since the Carter administration froze logistical, technical and maintenance support, the Iranian Air Force has been virtually grounded. No other nation can provide American spare parts, and the British have cut off their supply of parts for Iran's tank brigades.

ARMS SALES: The arms trade with Iran may have been cut off, but the Carter administration is still selling a lot of weapons. Early in his administration, the president promised to restrain international arms sales. But according to Defense Department statistics, U.S. sales of military equipment to foreign nations have increased, not decreased, since Carter made his pledge.

HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES: Those who write to the Army for enlistment information these days are awarded with a choice of either a pair of wrist sweatbands embossed with the Army logo or a set of his-and-hers dog tags ... Occasionally, State Department pomp and circumstance reaches ridiculous heights. The U.S. ambassador in Sri Lanka, for example, recently assembled the embassy staff for a ribbon-cutting ceremony -- to open a new snack bar.

Project CONECT Graduation

At a dinner in their honor at Bishop's Restaurant, nine CETA trainees were presented certificates recognizing their successful completion of Project CONECT, a CETA-funded training program for energy systems designers and installers. Carl Orio, president of WESCOP, Inc. and S. Allen Toothaker, director of Lawrence CETA Subgrantee were the guest speakers at the ceremony which marked the end of forty-two weeks of intensive training for the graduates. Presented with certificates of achievement were: Paul Buck of Andover, Patricia Feole of Lawrence, Michael Graham of Tyngsboro, John Holland of Haverhill, James Kennedy of North Andover, Leland Kern of Newburyport, Kevin McLaughlin of Haverhill, Cliff Poole of Lawrence, and William Rogers of Haverhill.

Project CONECT is a full-time program for qualified CETA clients which combines trade, scholastic and industry training in such subjects as heating, ventilation, air conditioning, refrigeration, physics, math and business. The program is conducted by WESCOP Training Division in collaboration with Northern Essex Community College, Whittier Regional Vocational Technical High School, and Shawsheen Technical High School.

WESCOP is a three year old subsidiary of Vaughn Corporation, Salisbury, that manufactures a family of energy conservation devices under the trade name "Solargy." These units utilize state-of-the-art heat pump technology for energy conservation in residential and commercial installations.

Car Springs

If your car is riding low, it may need new springs. However, installing new leaf springs is usually an expensive proposition, points out the ALA Auto and Travel Club, so you may want to look into installing "helper springs."

Improper tire pressure can cut gas mileage by 5 percent or more.

Record Output

The world's record for total output by a nuclear plant is 50 billion kilowatt hours, held by Connecticut Yankee. In 12 years it's produced more electricity than any of the other 194 nuclear units in operation in the world today. Generating the same amount of electricity in an oil-fueled plant would have required burning 85 million barrels of oil. Placed end to end, they would have circled the world twice.

Most Wins

The most wins of the Boston Marathon belong to Clarence H. DeMar of Melrose. He won seven times between 1911 and 1930.

Panthers Again Champs

The Panthers for the fourth straight season won the Mens Senior Division Championship and also took their fourth straight playoffs championship. Player-Coach Frank Monette's Panthers first won the championship in the 1976-77 season. The going was a little tougher and players a little older this season but they pulled together again to win the 1979-80 Championship with a 17-4 record.

After winning the regular season championship with a 13-2 mark they had to face the Andover "Specs" in a best of three series in the semi-final playoffs and then the always tough "Sweepers" in a best of three series for the finals. In the semi-finals the "Specs" surprised the Panthers as they topped the defending champs in a low scoring game by the score of 39-21 which was the lowest score ever recorded by the champs as they could not put together any kind of an offense. It was also the largest point spread they ever lost a game by. The Panthers had their backs to the wall and had to win the next two games in a row if they were to have a chance for the championship. The Panthers took on the challenge and won the second game of the series 42-35 after trailing by one after the first quarter went on a 16-6 run for a 21-12 halftime lead and played even the rest of the way for the victory. In the final game of the series the Panthers were awesome as they scored the first 16 points before the Specs managed their first 2 points two minutes into the second quarter. At one point of the game the Panthers had built up a 31 point lead and won the game 54-31 on the great Panthers pressing defense.

With the Sweepers knocking off the Pickups in the other semi-final bracket in two straight games the Sweepers were to be quite a challenge and it was as the Sweepers topped the Panthers in the first game of the best of three series 48-43, on the 22 points of All-American at Utah Dave Mahar. For the Panthers Frank Monette scored 20 points before fouling-out of the game in the fourth quarter.

Panthers

Again the Panthers had their backs to the wall and needed two straight victories for their fourth straight championship. Again the champs came back winning the second game 54-43 after taking the lead never looking back as the Panthers Lowell Canovitch led the attack with 17 points.

In the final game the Panthers took a 10-8 first quarter lead and managed to out-distance the Sweepers at each of the breaks.

In that game the Panthers were led by Don Sorrie and Lowell Canovitch 17 points each and Don Tremblay and Frank Monette 11 points apiece, while the Sweepers Dave Mahar was tops with 17. The Panthers 4 year record is 65-8. Members of the championship team are Player-Coach Frank Monette, Don Tremblay, Lowell Canovitch, Don Sorrie, Dick McAnern, Walt Mchendry, Jack Leary, Jack Garrison, Jim Caselden and Dick White.

Andover High School's JV Warriors having defeated Lowell 6-0 in its opener has continued its winning ways by hanging up three more victories as opposed to one loss.

Foot Race To Benefit Montessori

The first Annual Andover School of Montessori Foot Race will be held this Saturday, rain or shine, at 10 a.m. in Central Park across from the Andover East Junior High School.

The 3.4 mile course, in Andover, winds up Morton Street from Bartlet St.; to Chestnut, Highland, then Marie and Kathleen Drive; down Summer St. concluding at the Park. Showers and rest rooms will be available. Light snacks and soft drinks will be sold.

T shirts will be given out to the first 120 entrants and first place prizes will be available at the end of the race.

Divisions include: Youth, under 18; Open men 19-39; Open women 19-39; Master men, over 40 and master women over 40.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday. Fees are tax deductible. All funds will go to the Andover School of Montessori for its preschool and kindergarten programs.

The Andover Hockey Shop, Shawsheen Square is also sponsoring the race.

Fossil Fuel

coal is known as "fossil fuel" because it is composed of once-living material. According to Mass Electric, about 250 million years ago, much of this country was covered by plant-filled swamps. Plants died and fell beneath the water, where there wasn't sufficient oxygen for them to decay. But the dead plants were tightly compressed and transformed over the centuries into coal. Oil and natural gas also are part of the "fossil fuel" group.

Nearly a quarter of all restaurant orders are for hamburgers.

Following the Lowell game, the Warriors ran over Dracut by a 11-5 count. Backed by 10 hits, Brian Moriarty and Jim McMillan surrendered only 4 hits while striking out 10. Dracut was able to stay in the game due to 10 walks.

Andover put the game of of reach in the fourth inning by scoring seven times to forge a 9-2 lead. The inning was sparked by Tim Derby's two run double and Mike Rotondi's two run homer.

Other Warriors standouts were Carmen Scanpa with two hits and three stolen bases.

Win number three came at the hands of Tewksbury by a 7-4 score. The warriors were led by Tim Bolduc giving up six hits while striking out five.

Andover put the game away by scoring three in the third, two in the fourth, and two more in the fifth in building up a 7-0 lead in the rain.

The leaders for the Warriors were Carmen Scanpa and Tim Derby with two hits apiece, five RBI's and four stolen bases between them.

Andover's lone set-back came at the hands of the Wilmington Wildcats as they came back from a 4-1 deficit to post a 5-4 victory.

The loss proved upsetting in the face of letting Wilmington off the hook too many times. all the Wildcats runs were scored in the third and fourth with two outs.

The Warriors coach felt that they let Wilmington off the hook by lack of "killer instinct. We felt that we could turn it on and off any time we wanted."

Andover was led by Brian Moriarty's tremendous homerun over the left field fence onto the varsity field and Tim Bolduc's stellar relief pitching as he came on with two on in the fourth and put down all seven batters he faced.

The warriors returned to their winning ways at the hands of Austin Prep as the tunned on the Preppies by a 4-1 score.

Andover was led by Frank Dipiano's four inning stint of three hits, six strikeouts, and two base on balls; and Tim McMillan's three perfect innings, McMillan has now pitched in three games and looked very impressive.

The Warriors offense was spanked by Brian Moriarty's two hits, two runs scored, and two stolen bases; while the defense was spanked by Jeff Parker's great play at 3B.

The Warriors host Methuen at press time in Andover.

Track Teams Score Wins

The Andover High School Boys and Girls Track Teams continued on their winning ways last week with the Boys defeating Wilmington 92-53 and the Girls overwhelming the Wilmington Girls 99-19.

With a number of regulars out of action the Boys also finished a strong second to Haverhill in the 16 school Haverhill Invitation on Saturday, April 19. Highlight of the week was the performances while Noel Pizarro and Bob Flaherty continued their domination of the 220 with a 1-2 finish in :22.9. Berger, Flaherty and Pizarro then combined with Rip Williams to break the Haverhill Meet 880 relay record with a time of 1:32.9. Steve Rosen also had an impressive win in the discus at Haverhill while John Merola, triple jump, Steve Stabile, pole vault and Noel Pizarro, shot put, also had seconds. Another impressive performance was a second place finish in the 440 relay by four sophomores, Dave Fluet, Gary Milne, Jeff Guttermann and Russ Lewis. For the Girls the week was marked by outstanding performances by Sue Messersmith, Marcie Spiegel, Monica and Davene Williams, Ann Frank, Kristen Penkhus and Polly Whitley.

This Saturday, April 26, both the Boys and Girls will be competing in the Class A division of the state relays here in Andover. The meet will begin at 10 a.m. and will provide an excellent chance for area fans to see what well might be the best of a long line of outstanding sprint relay teams. On Monday, April 28 the boys meet powerful Methuen at Andover at 3:15 in the years biggest dual meet while the Girls will meet the equally powerful Methuen Girls in Methuen on the same date. Both the boys and girls will be putting 3-0 dual meet records on the line in these meets.

The oldest existing college for women is Mount Holyoke, opened in 1837.

Andover Stars Reach Finals

The Andover Stars (8th grade) Tournament Basketball team coached by Frank Monette completed their season by extending their record to 10-1 before losing in the finals of the Wakefield Invitational Basketball Tournament to the host Wakefield Stars who ended undefeated this year.

After the Andover Stars topped Roxbury in the quarterfinals 85-44, they faced a tough Beverly team in the semi-finals and after a great comeback was able to squease by Beverly 60-58 late in the fourth quarter. Without the services of top defensive guard Jim Stelzer, John Lahood, Fran McGranaghan and Pedro Gleason all took turns trying to stop Beverly's high scoring guard Jim Hages who was able to score 20 points, 10 of them coming in the first quarter as Beverly could not miss outscoring Andover 18-6 after one quarter of play, they built up a 14-point lead before Andover started a great comeback in the second quarter as Pedro Gleason tossed in 8 points, John Lahood 6, Mark Tremblay 4, Mark Nardone 3 and Fran McGranaghan 2 points in the second quarter to outscore Beverly 23-13 to trail at the half 31-29. In the third quarter Beverly lead by 5 points 47-42 as Mark Nardone had to come out of the game in the middle of the quarter after his stitches in his hand were broken and had to leave for bandages and taping up the hand. In the fourth quarter Andover come back behind the aggressive play of Mark Nardone who tossed in 8 points in the quarter along with 8 more from John Lahood and one apiece from Mark Tremblay and Pedro Gleason. For the game Mark Nardone took scoring honors with 22 points, John Lahood 14, Pedro Gleason 11, Mark Tremblay 11, Fran McGranaghan 2 points and some fine rebounding and defensive play by Bill Weidman, Chris Marcella, Ralph Dellatto and Mike Wheeler.

The finals was to be a catastrophe for the Andover Stars as they came to the game flat from the previous night's tough game with Beverly and the combination of not having their top defensive guard and playmaker Jim Stelzer and sub-par center Mark Nardone. All 9 players from Andover scored but with no consistency as Mark Nardone scored 10 points before fouling out, John Lahood 10 points before fouling out, Mark Tremblay 9 points 4 fouls, Mike Wheeler 7 points, Chris

On The Soccer Fields

By She Livermore

Hundreds of soccer players took over various fields in town last weekend to play their first games of the Spring season. There were a couple of lopsided victories but for the most part, results indicate well balanced teams.

Brief results of all the games appear below:

Under 10 Division:

Racers 3 — Riddlers 2

The Racers won the points in their game with the Riddlers by booting in the extra goal. The Riddlers worked hard to tie it up and were assaulting the Racers goal zone right until the final whistle! Kevin Foley scored twice for the Racers, one on a pass from David Sopp, and David Sopp's goal made it three; two penalty shots awarded the Riddlers were completed by Scott Livermore and James Spinelli. ESB: Chris Hekimian (4th quarter goalie), Kevin Foley and Ames Prentiss (Racers) as well as James Spinelli, Frank Padellelo and John Gilmartin (Riddlers).

Rockets 2 — Rustlers 2

The Rockets played aggressively in the first two quarters and took the lead with two goals booted in by Stephen Napolitano. The Rustlers controlled the third and fourth quarters and with much effort tied it up when Doug Bleszinski scored, as well as Andy Shea on a pass from Doug Bleszinski. Both teams split the points. ESB: James Berberian, Jason Tucker and Chris McAnally (Rustlers) as well as Tim Hagerty, James Hendry and Devon Arsenault (Rockets).

Renegades 2 — Rays 1

The Renegades were successful in scoring two goals whilst holding the Rays to one, and they won the points. The two Renegades goals were booted in by John Mattola on a pass from Scott Clementi and Randy Ying, and John Dorsey on a pass from Eric Tetreault, while Jim Sullivan scored for his team. ESB: Scott Adams, Scott Clementi and A. J. Boutin (Renegades) as well as Chris Kew and Leo Fontaine (Rays).

Rulers 1 — Razors 4

The Razors pressed the attack in the first quarter and scored two goals (Glenn Fortin and Steve McSweeney); they increased their lead by two in the second and third quarters (Jeff Ranelli on a pass from James MacKay, and Steve McSweeney on a pass from Jeff Ranelli). The Rulers played a strong final quarter and gave the Razors defensive line some anxious moments; they were awarded a penalty shot successfully completed by Peter Caruso, but were unable to score any more goals. ESB: J. B. Burgess, Kyle Murphy and Peter Caruso (Rulers) as well as Kevin Newman and Brian Donnellan (Razors).

Rushers 4 — Rebels 2

The Rushers "rushed" the Rebels and scored two goals in the first half to take the lead (Robert Ashworth on a pass from Matt Corbett, and Tommy Cioffi). They scored again twice in the second half (David Milne and Robert Ashworth on a pass from David Milne and Todd Dow). The Rebels met the challenge and made many shots on the nets, however, goalie Ian Anderson made some great saves and held them to two booted in by Josh Malitsky. ESB: Tony Cioffi and Chris Adams (rushers) as well as Billy-Ernesto Martin and Glenn Harrison (Rebels).

Grits 6 — Gadflies 0

The Gadflies were challenged by a strong bunch of Grits throughout the play and the name of the game was to minimize the loss. The spirited Gadflies worked hard but the Grits were determined to score goals and they booted in a total of six before the final whistle. The goals were scored by Hallie Keene on a pass from Linda Searway, Christina Beauregard on a pass from Sandra Liaw, Lisa Sanchez (2), one on a pass from Stacey Ala, Sandra Liaw on a pass from Lindsey Curley, and Erin Fuller. ESB: Joan Asgeirsson (Grits) as well as Laura Cox (Gadflies).

Graphics 4 — Gamblers 1

The Graphics held a one goal lead at the end of the half (Julie Darwin booted in the goal). The Gamblers tied it up in the second half (Kirsten Beigel), however, the spirited Graphics were determined to win the points and they did when Sarah Grecoe scored on a pass from Amy Mencis and Jennifer Milne, and Beth Cronin assaulted the nets twice in the final moments of play. ESB: Beth Cronin and Sarah Grecoe (Graphics) as well as Allison Vaill and Colleen Miskell (Gamblers).

Gliders 3 — Gunners 1

The Gunners played a strong first quarter during which they scored a goal booted in by Denise Morey. The Gliders met the challenge and succeeded in scoring three goals to take a lead they never lost (Debbie Williams (2) and Ann Marie Stanko). ESB: Mary Beth Griffin and Kerry Fitzpatrick (Gliders).

Under 12 Division:

Diggers 2 — Diehards 0

The first half was scoreless with good defense and alert goal tending thwarting the many attempts to score by both teams. In the second half, the Diggers put on the pressure and were successful in scoring twice (Barry Tucker and Mike Hardock on a pass from Barry Tucker), which won them the victory points. ESB: Timothy Higgins and Mark Peters who guarded the Diggers nets, as well as Kyle McCabe, Rajiv Sheel, Ronnie Peck and Geoff Bolan (Diehards).

Dusters 3 — Daredevils 1

The Dusters took an early lead when David Young assaulted the nets. The Daredevils worked hard to even it up and succeeded in the third quarter when Kyle Marcella scored on a pass from David Eckman. The spirited Dusters added to their score in the same quarter when David Bartle booted one in, and made it three to one in the final quarter when Kenny Young scored on a pass from Bruce Crawford. ESB: Grey Tormey, Paul Desruisseau and David Dilling (Dusters)

Triton 4 — Andover 1

The long season ended for Andover's Pee Wee B's on Wednesday, April 9, when they lost to Triton 4-1 in the Danvers Twin Rinks league playoff semifinals. The game was very evenly played despite the final three goal spread. Andover put some early pressure on Triton as the Timmy Donovan, Ronnie Forbes, Chris Madden line, backed by pointmen Mark Paskowsky and Shannon McCabe, kept the puck in the offensive zone most of the time that they were on the ice and got several good shots off.

The only goal of the first period came late, after Andover goalie David Barry had come up with some excellent stops. The Triton score came on a power play scramble in front after a very questionable interference call. Triton extended the lead to 2-0 early in the second period, as a shot from the point was deflected into the net. Andover's offense then came to life. A unit made up of forwards Tommy Herling, Paul Fuchs, and Jeff McNeil, and defensemen Brian Gibson and John Gangi controlled play and had several good scoring bids stopped by the Triton goaltender. Ronnie Forbes finally scored for Andover early in the third period to make it 2-1 Triton. Andover then came close to tying up the game.

Defenseman Matt Shine began a rush behind his own net and broke free as he crossed the Triton blue line. He was hooked from behind just as he shot but no penalty was called. Next, forward David Young had an apparent goal called back on an offside pass call. Triton then scored a powerplay goal for a 3-1 lead. Bill Bruno and Larry Prestia then had good shots turned away before Triton scored again from a scramble after Andover goalie Kenny Young had come up with a series of good saves. Two late rushes by Andover's Sandy MacNeish were turned away, and the game ended 4-1, Triton.

The B's should be very proud of themselves for their excellent season, particularly over the second half. The playoff loss to Triton ended a 10 game unbeaten streak, which saw them defeat some very good teams in both the Wilmington and Danvers Leagues.

IT WORKS!

New, Improved Program
Formulated Especially for Women

Dear NaturSlim,

After hearing so much about your new NaturSlim II® weight loss program, I decided to try it myself. In my many years as a pharmacist, I've tried numerous weight loss plans, but none have worked as well for me as NaturSlim. In the last 5 weeks I've lost over 20 pounds, which was surprisingly easy. I didn't have to starve myself or do any special exercises. NaturSlim II® is a natural way to lose weight without drugs or shots.

You have a fine product and I recommend it highly.

as well as Shannon McCabe, Kyle Marcella and David Eckman (Daredevils).

Darts 2 — Defenders 2

The first half was scoreless with both teams testing each other's strengths. The Defenders took the lead in the third quarter when Matt Alden scored on a pass from Matt Murphy; this was tied up by the Darts in the final quarter (Steve Colitz on a pass from Malcolm Galvin) who then added another (Malcolm Galvin on a pass from Mike Burke). The Defenders not to be outdone also scored (Matt Alden on a pass from Brian Costello) and the game ended in a tie, with both teams splitting the points. ESB: Chris Graff and Matt Young (Darts) as well as John Perry and Stephen Redgate (Defenders).

Daggers 3 — Dodgers 1

The Daggers were able to hold the spirited Dodgers to one goal in the first half (Richard Boudelais) whilst assaulting the nets on three occasions successfully (Matt McKinnon on a pass from Jay DuHadway, Jay DuHadway (2) on passes from Robert Foley and George Phillip). Both teams' defensive lines denied the many attempts to score in the second half, and the Daggers won the victory points. ESB: Chris Sapuppo, Russell Lamontagne and Andy Lascher (Daggers), as well as Goalie James Saalfrank, Larry Prestia and Gary Ziegler (Dodgers).

Dealers 3 — Dynamos 1

The Dealers played a great second quarter during which they booted in three goals (Stephane Kirkland on a pass from Bryan Poisson, Alan Sillars on a pass from Stephane Kirkland, and Adam Smith). The Dynamos worked hard to get the ball into the nets and finally succeeded in the final quarter with a great shot by Chris DiClemente. The Dealers won the victory points. ESB: Chris Gully and Henning Ohlenbusch (Dealers) as well as Tom Herling, Bill Andrews, Cort Pomeroy and Chris Frothingham (Dynamos).

Federals 1 — Fivers 0

Good goal tending by both teams held the final score to 1-0 in an evenly matched game. The Federals succeeded in getting the ball into the Fivers nets in the third quarter (Tracy Costello) and they won the victory points. ESB: Megan Dunbar and Caroline Pool (Federals).

Fantastics 0 — Fantatics 0

Two teams with names very similar battled it out through four quarters, each trying to score the elusive goal. When the final whistle blew, neither of them had been successful and the game ended in a scoreless tie, with both teams splitting the points. ESB: Robin McHendry, Jennifer McAnern and Wendy Carothers (Fantastics).

Flares 2 — Fiestas 1

Both teams cored in the second quarter (Susan Clark for the Flares and Marci Lebowitz for the Fiestas). The Flares were very aggressive in the third quarter and made many shots on the nets looking for the winning goal; Fiestas goalie Vered Pomerantz made some great saves for her team but the Flares were not to be denied and won the points when Sheila Hamilton booted in the ball. ESB: Ellen Byrnes (Fiestas).

Flexers 3 — Finishers 1

The game was tied up at the end of the first quarter, both teams having scored a goal (Torrie Fitzpatrick for the Flexers and Beth Ostrowski on a pass from Ellen LeMaitre for the Finishers). The Flexers scored again in the third and fourth quarters (Jahna Malitsky on a pass from Carol Williams, and Lisa Spinelli (her first ever!) on a pass from Torrie Fitzpatrick and Buffy Kaplan) and they won the victory points. ESB: Bonnie Bilger and Karen Mitchell (Flexers) as well as Ellen LeMaitre, Christine Morey and Elizabeth Pastor (Finishers).

Under 12 Division:

Andover Cleavers 1

North Andover Eagles 3

The Cleavers were challenged by North Andover who forced them into a defensive position throughout much of the game; they did play a very spirited final quarter, scoring on a penalty shot (Daniel Moynihan) but North Andover had already booted in three, to win the victory points. ESB: Marten Wennik, Jeff Kip and Vincent Fichera.

Andover Commanders 0

Lawrence P. A. 7

The Commanders were challenged by a strong Lawrence team throughout the game and the entire team worked hard to minimize the loss. Before the final whistle blew, Lawrence had booted in seven goals to win the victory points. ESB: Sandy MacNeish.

Andover Strikers 4 — Beverly Cobras 1

The Strikers travelled to Beverly to play the Cobras and returned home with the victory points. They scored twice in the first half (Zack Apgar, one on a pass from Glenn Livermore and Larry Cuddy) whilst holding Beverly to one due to the great goaltending of David Keene. Andover made it 4-1 in the second half when Dana Klay assaulted the nets, as well as Zack Apgar. ESB: Dean Lockwood and Glenn Livermore.

"bone crusher" and, for winter use, snow shoes and early skates.

Among the more exotic things on display in the barn are lighting equipment: a large 1829 pumper used in Ballardvale for fighting fires and two cannons used for fighting off the enemy in their day.

This highly diversified assortment of articles, shedding light on the life style of 19th-century Andover residents, exists because a few contemporaries were dedicated to collecting, preserving and displaying these artifacts for their historical and educational value to the community.

In 1968 the unclassified collection of items stored in the barn was repaired, catalogued, labelled, organized and displayed largely through the work of George Glennie and the late Douglas Pitman, under the presidency of the late Dr. Charles Currier.

The barn was built for Deacon Amos Blanchard in 1818 at a cost of $320. It has hand-hewn beams held together by wooded pegs and the original hardware. Stanchions and stalls are still visible. Except for the external surface, few changes have been made in the barn since it was first built over 160 years ago.

The Barn Museum will be open to the public on Wednesday and Sunday afternoons from 2 to 4 for a nominal fee until cold weather. But on opening day, Sunday, May 4 from 2 to 4, admission is free. The public is cordially invited.

Identification

Census takers for the 1980 Census of Population and Housing are easy to identify, according to Census Regional Manager, Leo J. Kearns.

They wear red, white, and blue ID cards with the U.S. Department of Commerce seal and "Census Enumerator, Official Credential" printed on them. Their cards also have their signatures, certifying that they have sworn to keep confidential all information they collect for the census. Any oath faces a fine, or imprisonment, or both, but the Bureau's record on this is spotless, the manager said.

Thinking of Home Improvements?

Before selecting a contractor, consider these important points:

Protect yourself: Is the contractor fully insured should an employee be injured on your property — or accidentally damages your property or a neighbors?

Avoid misunderstandings: When getting several bids on a job, verbal descriptions alone may leave gray areas that can cause bids to vary substantially. Blueprints and/or exact specifications of materials to be used are recommended to assure all contractors are bidding on exactly the same ideas. Will the contractor provide you with a written, detailed contract, stating clearly what is to be done and at what price?

Reliability — References: Is the contractor well known locally? Does he offer a local telephone number to reach him if questions arise? Does he have brochures or photos of his work? Previous customers references really do not tell you much except the names of one or two satisfied customers — of course no one would provide dissatisfied clients as references! Best references are names of professional people such as local realty agencies, materials and lumber suppliers and local newspapers carrying the contractor's ads. These people get feed-back from lots of clients. They know how long he has been in business locally.

Professional affiliations: Hopefully, the contractor you choose belongs to one or more professional business or trade organizations who want members to uphold their high standards.

TIME VERSUS MILES

Looking for a new home for your family?
Just moved to a new job in a new location? Then commuting distance is an important consideration.

There was a time when the simple method of locating a home was to draw a circle on the map around your place of employment and look for a house in that geographic area. No longer is this the case.

With today's super highways, you might commute to a job 20 miles away in less time than it would take from an inner-city location of only five miles.

Today, you should draw your circle in terms of minutes rather than miles. You may be passing up some wonderful home-buying opportunities, lower taxes, and better schools in distant suburban locations — only because you THOUGHT they would be too far away. Don't talk miles.

... talk minutes and you may just find your right house at a better price.
Makes sense — doesn't it?

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in
at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100.
We're here to help.

Voters 'Tip Their Cap'

Following the pace set on the first two nights of town meeting, voters moved quickly through the warrant last Wednesday night, approving most of the articles with little discussion.

The evening ended with a unanimous vote — a two-thirds vote was needed — to override the governor's four percent tax cap: town meeting voted to increase the appropriations limit by $1,502,209, to a total of $22,428,033; and to increase the levy limit by $1,200,000, to a total of $23,025,430.

Voters also gave their approval to Article 48, authorizing the town to require performance bonds of those who receive licenses or permits from the conservation commission, planning board, or board of health; Article 49, authorizing the town to use non-criminal penalties when bylaws are violated; Article 50, authorizing the town to acquire wetlands at Forest Hills for conservation; Article 54, to raise $150,000 by taxation to replace the Riverina Road pumping station; Article 56, to clarify zoning bylaws concerning side yard requirements for certain lots; Article 57, to amend the zoning bylaw concerning corner lots in cluster developments; Article 58, to appropriate $7500 to pave the library and theatre building parking lot; Article 59, to accept and maintain storm drains and sewers leading to the G.C.A. Corporation; Article 60, to expend $79,744.41 in appropriations left from past town meetings and free cash; Article 61, to retain $1,250,000 in free cash to help reduce the 1980 tax rate; Article 62, to raise $5000 to pay unpaid bills from prior years; Article 63, to raise $65,000 for a study of the town's pension system; Article 67, an advisory question on studying reuse of East Junior High after the Memorial wing becomes part of the new junior high school; and Article 68, to appropriate $56,000 for a study on the reuse of East Junior high.

Article 64, which proposed selling Bancroft school and using the funds to renovate East, was held until after the vote on the school bonding question, Article 65, and was withdrawn at that time. Article 66, an advisory question for the school building committee should the bonding question be defeated was also withdrawn.

To Plan Shawsheen Dedication

The Friends of Shawsheen Neighborhood Association invites all interested Townsmen to join with them in the planning for the June 14 celebration of the Village's designation as an Historic District.

An important and permanent part of the celebration will be the dedication of a plaque. The plaque will be ordered after this meeting and the committee wishes to discuss the entire day's activities and the text of the plaque with all who are interested.

The meeting will be held at the Lawrence Savings Bank's Community Room at Shawsheen Square on Thursday, April 24, at 8 p.m.

Spring for Spring at Towne Deli!

The off again on again New England Spring of the past few days does not fool the calendar nor does it fool us veterans at Towne Deli.

May is just around the corner.

Accordingly, we are already planning the opening of our popular outdoor Cafe . . . so enjoyable when the verdure really lets go and one craves the outdoors. In the meantime you can enjoy our delectable food preparations in our dining room for breakfast, lunch or in the evening after your golf round, tennis match or when heading out for a movie or a PTA meeting. Here, knowing the vagaries of our weather, we move Spring indoors the year 'round with greenery that makes eating at Towne Deli even more pleasurable.

When the spirit moves, you can enjoy a frosted glass of great beers or a glass of wine with our piled-high sandwiches.

Spring at Towne Deli is bound to put added spring to your step. Come and see!
